The girl with the Dragon

👁 171 ✓ 9 ★ 14

Chapter 1 by Meldoy

Dark, misty quiet night it was. The wind whispered, the night sky darkened. All was well, till a shriek and a growl was heard. Not just any growl, a dragon's growl. Shadow falls onto the ground as the creature slowly lands. A girl we assume, at age 13 or 14, somewhere, gets off of the dragon. She had red hair up to her waist, she was wearing a black cardigan with shorts up to her knees. Her shoes were a black too, torn up around the edges here and there. The mysterious girl pets the dragon. As she stretches her arm to pet the creature, there was a sound. A sound like someone was here, someone walking onto a stick and breaking it. The mysterious girl heard. She spun her head at the direction of where the sound came from.

" ROSE!!!" The voice called, over and over again. Sounded like a boy's voice. The girl grabbed a sword, just in case. Who was this boy? How does he know who I am? The girl wondered.

The boy's voice grew louder and closer. The dragon backed away in fear, and flew off. The girl looked at the direction and whispered " Come back..." to the flying dragon.

As the boy's voice came louder, he ran toward the girl. He had Blue eyes, brown hair, he was dressed nice to. Almost like he's the prince and a royal. But if he was why is he in the woods. He looked the same age as the girl. "Rose?" the boy whispered.

"Who are you?" The girl said with

"It's me," the boy said loud

The girl waited for a answer, still very confused. The blue eyed boy sighed. "Its me Luke, remember?"

Oh right how could she forget. She thought 'he was her best guy friend who actually understood her. But she couldn't bear tell him about the dragon. For many reasons.'

"what are you doing here?" Luke asked Rose.

" I can ask you the same thing." Rose told him, trying dodging the question.

He looked at Rose for a few moments and then cracked a smile and answered " This is my thinking spot.."

'Great now I need a new spot to land Blaze' Rose thought to herself. "and Ms. Lilith wants to speak to you." Luke adds with a trembling voice and a whisper when he says her name, he looks to his both sides before he lets me respond. I nod and head straight out of the woods.

"Your Late" Ms. Lilith told hissed at her.

" sorry.."She mumbled

" unacceptable, your late to classes, detention and your curfew, and now this?!" As Ms. Lilith spoke her voice grew louder. Rose looked away from her and onto the ground. But that was a mistake.

"Look when your spoken to" She sternly told Rose, she nodded and looked up, anywhere but in her icy eyes, glaring a her. She was wearing a black women suit with a black pants and grey shoes along with a tight bun. Ms. Lilith looks at Rose with a disgust face and grabs her hand and drags her to a room. Her room. She wouldn't dare even call it hers. The walls are torn, their flooring was wood. A window here and there but no posters could be hung. Only thing in the room was a bed and a small closet for her clothes.

" You will stay here," she looks up and down at Rose and adds " and you mustn't leave, understood?" Rose nods and Ms. Lilith slams the door shut along with locking the door shut

Rose then mumbled to herself "there's no way out." As she sighed.

Chapter 2 by Phantom

There is a way out, if only you could find it. I hope you like you have helped me.

The voice was in her head.

"No, Blaze. I can't just leave. Can I? Where would I go? What would I eat? Where would I sleep when it gets cold?" Rose said, knowing the dragon would hear her no matter the distance.

That is called an adventure dear one. Do not most humans crave such things?

"I'm not sure Blaze. Do they?" Rose asked.

Why would you ask a dragon about what things humans like?

"Because you have been out there Blaze! All I know is this orphanage! Ive been here 12 years and I don't even remember the first 4 before I arrived here. This is the only life I know and even it is going to change. Once I start my bleeding it will be out on the streets or into the whorehouse!" Rose said, she then started to cry.

Why wait for your blood to tell you that you are a woman Rose? Decide yourself, tonight. Fly away with me and see the world! Don't let that old hag decide your fate. Let me help you leave, I owe you that much. Please say yes.

Rose eventually stopped crying and laid with her face in her tear stained pillow. She felt like she owed the dragon an answer, but what was she going to say? She thought several more minutes before finally she stood up and said...

"Okay blaze, but only if you can take Luke too."

Why do we need him to come along with us on your adventure? He doesn't even know that dragons are real.

"Yes Blaze, I know. But, he is my best friend and I don't know what would happen to him if we just left him here... he is almost 15 and that is when the boys get pulled into the draft... I do NOT want to spend my adventure worrying about whether he is alive or how he could die."

But Rose don't you know?

Nevermind, it would be best if Luke told you himself.

"Whatever you say."

Thaty night Rose and Blaze stayed up until dawn, planning their escape from the orphanage. When Rose saw Luke again, she pulled him close and gave him a big bear hug...

"Hey what's this for?"

"Just listen to me Luke... I need your help"

"Count me in"

"But you haven't heard what I need your help with yet! What if you decide to say no?"

"Rose, why would I ever say no to you? You have been my best friend since you came to this orphanage, and who knows you better than me? I don't need to know your plan because I trust you... I know that in your heart you believe you are doing the right thing."

"Aww Luke.... Okay. In that case I think it is time for you to meet someone who is very important to me.... besides you of course."

Chapter 4 by Florenceia

Rose grasps Luke's hand and takes him to her small room. She sits him on the bed.

"Luke, this is going to feel a bit weird, ok, just take my hands and clear your mind of thought." she whispers.

Without hesitation he takes her hands and closes his eyes.

Rose concentrates on creating a bridge between her mind and his, a bridge Blaze's voice could travel on.

"Luke, say hi to Blaze." Rose says to her friend. Before Luke can say anything Blaze speaks, "Hello Luke, t'is a pleasure to meet you."

Luke's eyes flash open and stares at Rose.

"Did-did you hear that, a voice in my head and-and it spoke and who's Blaze, Rose, Rose answer me!" Luke breathed out frantically, staring up at her calm face. "Rose what's going on?"

"We're escaping this place and no one is to know. I'll be in the pantry at twelve tonight and bring everything you need. I'll be waiting for you in the woods, one mile from the orphanage."

"How long are we leaving for?"

"Forever!" she replies her eyes wide the excitement and anticipation.

Chapter 5 by

Luke stepped back suddenly and almost tripped over a tree root.

"I...I can't go Rose." His voice was dropped near to a whisper and his eyes stared at the ground. A tear dropped on a stone, marking its existence for a short time.

"But...why? We can escape this place, we can journey the world! We won't have any more Ms. Liliths prowling around, catching us every time we try to have fun! This is the perfect chance to live the life we had always dreamed of!" said Rose, not understanding why Luke had backed off.

"I...I can't Rose. It's..." Rose could see that he was weakening, the look of longing in his eyes as he glanced at Blaze and back at her. She smiled. For once she thought that it was something serious, but now she could see that it was pure terror of the looming prospect.

"Come on, Luke. Don't be a chicken. One day you'll have to tell your children that you didn't have the guts to climb onto a dragon and see where destiny takes you." Luke smiled, almost seeming like his usual self.

"If you put it that way, I can't see why there's any reason for me to say here. Deal. Let's meet at midnight."

Rose shook his hand enthusiastically, not seeing the sharp, piercing glance Blaze gave Luke.

Why didn't you tell her? Blaze was hovering in front of Luke's window, her eyes piercing Luke's.

"I...I was afraid that she wouldn't love me anymore. That we would never be the friends we are now. Please don't tell her, will you? Until I get up the courage to tell her." Luke looked pleadingly at Blaze, his eyes marked with tears. Blaze hesitated. Then to Luke's relief, her silvery-blue head jerked up and down in a slow nod.

You will have my word. It will be as you say, Blaze said. She landed softly onto the grass and bounded away into the darkness. After seeing her go, Luke packed up everything he needed, prepared to go meet Rose at midnight.
